Preventative Breast Care

Breast health goes hand-in-hand with your overall health. Eating a healthy diet and managing your weight helps lower your risk of breast cancer. And the best way to detect breast cancer early is by having regular mammograms. Luminis Health Breast Imaging offers convenient evening and weekend appointments and 3D screenings. We exceed the American College of Radiology's breast imaging requirements by also offering breast ultrasound and breast MRI.

Our Breast Centers

Our Breast Centers demonstrate the highest quality evaluation and management of patients with breast disease. Our care team will make sure that you and your family understand all of your treatment options and know what to expect—whether that is a less invasive option or surgery. When you're ready to start treatment, our nurse navigators can help you figure out your next steps, make appointments and find resources to help you at LHAAMC and in the community.

Your Breast Team

Always expanding their knowledge and skills, our award-winning and comprehensive team of radiologists, breast and reconstructive surgeons, radiation oncologists, medical oncologists and other specialists will meet you wherever you are on your cancer journey. We work together to provide complete care that takes into consideration your unique goals, preferences and personal needs.
